HOW NAVAL BATTLE BEGAN TOLD BY PASSENGER ON FRENCH LINER: NO DECISION IN BERLIN AS TO GRAF SPEE PLANS

AN ACCOUNT OF HOW THE BATTLE BETWEEN THE THREE BRITISH CRUISERS, H. M. S. EXETER, H. M. S. ACHILLES AND H. M. S. AJAX, AND THE GERMAN POCKET BATTLESHIP ADMIRAL GRAF SPEE began, given by a passenger on board the French liner Formose, which was being conveyed by the Ajax, is contained in a Reuter message from Buenos Aires.

MEANWHILE, A REUTER REPORT FROM AMSTERDAM STATES THAT NOTHING HAS YET BEEN REVEALED IN BERLIN ABOUT THE PLANS OF THE GRAF SPEE.

The German authorities have been examining reports from the captain of the pocket battleship, now lying in Montevideo harbour, and the German Legation but hitherto it is not known what decision will be taken.

The passenger aboard the French liner Formose related that at 6 p.m. on Wednesday when the liner was off the Uruguayan coast they sighted the Graf Spee sailing parallel with the Formose. The Graf Spee fired four shots at a target which was invisible from the liner.

FAIR AND SQUARE

"At 7.30 p.m. we saw a British cruiser approaching at great speed. When she was 12 miles off, she opened fire on the German battleship. The first shell missed but the range was then rectified and the second took the Graf Spee fair and square in the stern.

"The cruiser threw a smoke-screen to hide herself and then resumed the chase," he said. "The Graf Spee was surprised by the sudden attack. She increased her speed and repelled with a volley of four shots all of which fell wide. "The cruiser pressed on with the attack without allowing the Graf Spee the slightest breathing space. "When night fell the Graf Spee was still firing her shells, seemingly at random. She disappeared into the darkness, still pursued by the British warship," concluded the passenger.

URGENT EXCHANGE

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—An urgent exchange of questions and instructions was proceeding in code between Berlin and Montevideo all yesterday and most of last night.

2 GERMAN SHIPPING FIRMS LOSE HEAVILY

Special to the H.K. Daily Press NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (Havas)—Two German shipping companies, the Norddeutscher Lloyd and the Hamburg Amerika Line, have suffered huge losses since the outbreak of war due to the fact that 40 of their ships are blocked in American ports and 2,800 men, who are idle, continue to draw their salary.

Furthermore, they must purchase supplies and foodstuffs for these vessels.

An interesting sidelight on the situation is the polite refusal of the companies of the offer for repatriation by 300 Chinese sailors, who had signed two-year contracts, stating that they prefer to adhere "strictly to the terms of the contracts."

Nomura Tries To Conciliate Third Powers

TOKYO, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—As a concrete measure to help to break the Japan-American diplomatic deadlock there is every possibility of the Yangtze being reopened to third power shipping in the near future, says the Kokumin Shimbun today.

A NECESSITY

The newspaper understands that Admiral Nomura regards this measure as a fundamental necessity.

His opponents, on the other hand, argue that the re-opening of the Yangtze to third power shipping would violate China's administrative rights and will enable the powers concerned not only to enjoy economic benefits, but also to exercise political and military pressure on China.

Therefore, they say, third power navigation rights on Chinese waterways should be abolished.

A.R.P. EXERCISE AT YAUMATI

The Director of Air Raid Precautions announced that the Air Raid Warning siren will sound at one minute to 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to indicate the commencement of the A.R.P. exercise at Yaumati. It will sound again at 10 a.m. to indicate the termination of the exercise.

It should be noted, however, that the duration of the signal has been limited to one minute, and the siren will not be sounded over the regulation period of three minutes.

BUSY DAY FOR ENVOY

TIENHSIN, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, American Ambassador to China, had a most busy morning interviewing individuals while in the afternoon he spent two hours closeted with leading American business leaders. American Consular and Chamber of Commerce officials decline to divulge anything for the present.

Mr. Yoshio Muto, Japanese Consul-General, called on Mr. Johnson.

New Zealanders Elated At Part Played By H.M.S. Achilles

WELLINGTON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—New Zealanders are elated at the part played by H.M.S. Achilles in the Atlantic battle.

The Governor-General, Lord Galway, sent a message to the Secretary of State for the Dominions, Mr. Anthony Eden, congratulating the Captain and all ranks for the heroic part played in the defeat of the Admiral Graf Spee.

The Prime Minister, Mr. M. J. Savage, stated that the battle would take a notable place in the glorious annals of British naval history.

He congratulated, on behalf of the Government and the people, the Captain and the crew, which included 327 New Zealanders. He added that it was gratifying that in the first naval action "our boys acquitted themselves in a manner fully in keeping with the great traditions of the British Navy."

Unable To Count Nazi Bombers

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—An eye-witness of an aerial combat between 12 British bombers and a large number of German fighters said that there were so many of the latter, and they were changing directions of flight, that he was unable to count their exact number.

He added that when the battle was over he saw nine bombers flying away in a north-west direction.

BUILDING IN QUEEN'S ROAD WEST WITH NO FIRE-ESCAPE: INQUIRY AT MAGISTRACY: RIDER BY JURY

INADEQUATE PROVISION OF FIRE-ESCAPES WAS added as a rider by the jury at the Central Court yesterday afternoon when an inquest was held into the death of one of eight persons who lost their lives in a conflagration at No. 466, Queen's Road West in the early morning of November 27.

Evidence revealed that the premises were built in 1901, and, according to a Building Authority witness, had no fire-escape on the floors. The staircase and floors were constructed entirely of wood.

Mr. T. J. Houston sat as Coroner, assisted by a jury comprising Messrs. G. A. Lomaev (foreman), Pun Ping-chung and Wong Man-fel.

The fire occurred at No. 466 Queen's Road West in the early morning of November 27 resulting in eight deaths, including women and children.

Inspector W. Mair and Detective-Sergeant R. Marvey, who conducted the investigations, were present for the police.

Medical evidence showed that some of the persons died from fractured skull, consistent with a fall from a height, while others perished by burns.

FIRST ON SCENE

Sub-Inspector Sze Wai-ming, who was the first police officer on the scene, told the Court that he was on duty from 1 to 8 a.m. on November 27 when he heard police whistle blown. He rushed to the locality and found the premises in flames. He opened the door of the ground floor of No. 466 Queen's Road West and made attempts to put out the flames. He summoned the Fire Brigade and on his return found the fire had intensified. He then rushed next door and roused the inmates.

Tam Yuk-chi, master of the Kwong Lee Lung grocery shop on the ground floor of the house where the fire originated, said that the inmates of the floor had retired just before midnight. There was no cooking in the kitchen and the main electric switch had been put off. About 1 a.m. he was awakened by shouts of "fire" in the front corner of his shop where a quantity of straw mats had been kept. He gave the alarm and the people rushed out through the back door.

He suffered a loss to property of more than $1,500.

RUSHED TO VERANDAH

Wong Mui-lin, principal tenant of the first floor, said that there were altogether 20 persons in her flat. When the first alarm was first heard the inmates rushed up to the second floor verandah and climbed to the balcony next door.

Fu To, principal tenant of the second floor of No. 466, Queen's Road West, said that there were about 28 persons living on the floor.

Boy Burns To Death In Cockloft Misadventure Verdict

A verdict of death by misadventure was returned at Kowloon Court yesterday following an inquiry into a nine-year-old boy who was burned to death in the cockloft above the ground floor of No. 13, Pitt Street, on the night of September 30.

Giving evidence, the deceased's mother, Lam Kam, stated that her husband had endeavored to save the boy after fire broke out following a pot of boiling oil bursting into flame. Her husband rushed up the cockloft, but had to turn back when badly singed by the flame, his hair catching afire.

Mr. G. C. Moss, Deputy Superintendent of the Fire Brigade, stated, in evidence, that a private individual was allowed by the regulations to keep up to 20 gallons of kerosene on his premises without a licence, and for a quantity of kerosene over 20 gallons a licence was required on terms of which the kerosene would have to be kept in a pit in the yard. The jury sitting at this inquest comprised Messrs. L. Bones (foreman), E. Eymard, and Woo Woon-kin.

FIRST EMPIRE CONTINGENT TO JOIN R.N.

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—The Empire's first contingent of men to join the Royal Navy, consisting of nearly 200 fishermen, all bachelors from the Belle Isle, Newfoundland, was given an official welcome at Liverpool.

The men, whose ages range from 18 to 24, are the first of 625 volunteers who will be engaged in mine-sweeping operations.

Some of the men's fathers served in the Army in the last war. Lord Derby, in the name of the King, welcomed the splendid body of men who had come to help their Empire in her great struggle.

PROGRESS OF OFFENSIVE BY CHINESE IN HUPEH: BIG ADVANCES CLAIMED

FANCHENG, HUPEH, Dec. 15 (Central)—Chinese forces in Central and North Hupeh are continuing their advances since their major offensive launched on Tuesday.

Aside from Topaoan and Lohanssu, the units which crossed the Siang River have recaptured more important points in their drive along the Hankow-Ichang highway, including Nanchanglu and Hsuehichang, west of Tienmen. Kungyichang, where the Japanese retreated, is surrounded.

Japanese reinforcements were intercepted at Huihui and suffered over 800 casualties. Several Japanese tanks and armoured cars and a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition were captured.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

Further Japanese reinforcements have been called out. Fighting is raging in the vicinity of Yunglung, Siensaochen, in the neighbourhood, is encircled by the Chinese.

The Japanese have suffered heavy casualties in an engagement near Tienkiang, 95 miles above Hankow on the south bank of the Han River.

On the Suhsien sector, in North Hupeh, the Chinese have also recovered more important points, including Yuchiatien and Tashichashan. The Chinese north of Yingshan are vigorously attacking Chaokowtien.

JAPANESE DISLODGED

Japanese units at Hsuehichang, north-east of Suhsien, have been dislodged. They are bringing in reinforcements from the neighbourhood to stage a comeback.

To the north-west of Anlu, south of Yingshan, a Japanese unit has been defeated, abandoning over 100 bodies.

The Hwayuan-Kwangsu section of the Peking-Hankow Railway has been damaged by Chinese at three points. The rails near Sinyang, in south Homan, have also been torn up. The Japanese are finding it extremely difficult to send men and munitions to the north Hupeh front.

CHINA EXPECTED TO WIN IN CHARITY SOCCER CUP MATCH TOMORROW

South China "A" Meeting Police This Afternoon

BY "PILAT"

The first match in the Sunday Herald International Charity Cup will be played tomorrow at Caroline Hill when IRELAND will be opposed to CHINA, the holders.

China is fielding a strong eleven but it can safely be said that it is not their strongest. As far as the goalkeeper and the full-back positions are concerned the choices are as expected. It is learned Lee Kwok-wai is not turning out and Mak Shiu-hon will play instead.

However, a complete new intermediate line will be on view. Hsu King-sing, who will be seen at centre-half, played for the Federation in the Governor's Cup, but the wing-halves, Lau Che-chan and Lau Chung-sang are receiving their first recognition in a representative game.

The forwards are the same as those who played in the Governor's Cup match except that Lai Shui-wing has been dropped in favour of Cheung Kam-hoi. This should assure of better understanding as Cheung and Hau Ching-to are team-mates.

The Irish team includes only four Senior League players, the rest being drawn from junior League teams.

The back division of Sheehan and Lawton looks quite safe but the same cannot be said of the rest. I doubt if the halves can hold the Chinese even with such a fine player as David Leonard as pivot.

The forwards are no doubt good individually, but whether they can combine together as a unit remain to be seen.

LEAGUE GAMES

As far as can be ascertained there will be three League games this afternoon, the most interesting of which should be the KOWLOON-EASTERN encounter on the former's ground.

Eastern have so far dropped four valuable points and their chances of winning the League are not as bright as at the start of the season. Their display last Saturday was extremely disappointing, to say the least, and, unless they show great improvement in form, especially among the forwards, they will find it hard going against the Mainlanders who are always a "hard nut" to crack when playing on their own pitch.

Kowloon, in view of their performance last week, is expected to give the same line-up a second trial and I am sure, with a few more games, they can be welded into a more than useful side.

POLICE CHANCES

SOUTH CHINA "A" will be visiting the POLICE at Boundary Road and, though favoured to win, will have good cause to remember the occasion when they played there last season. Playing under rather adverse conditions (it was raining that day) the champions suffered one of their four defeats to the then lowly-placed Police team.

Though I don't think the Police will repeat their performance, they are always more formidable when playing on their own ground.

CLUB "SLUMP"

The last game on the programme is that between CLUB and the ROYAL SCOTS on the Club ground. The homesters are having one of their leanest seasons and unless new blood is forthcoming they will find it hard to climb out of the "slump" into which they have fallen.

A Scots' victory is, therefore, indicated.

FORECAST

Kowloon v. EASTERN.
Police v. SOUTH CHINA "A".
Club v. ROYAL SCOTS.
CHINA v. Ireland.

Governor To Play Cricket Tomorrow

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, will play for the Hongkong Cricket Club in a cricket match for teams over 45 between the H.K.C.C. and the Kowloon C.C. tomorrow.

The match will be played at 2.15 p.m. at the Kowloon C.C. and His Excellency will lunch with the teams at 1.00 p.m.

LAWN BOWLS

His Excellency's team will meet the Talkoo Club at lawn bowls on the Government House green on Wednesday at 3.15 p.m.

THE NIGHTCAP

The nightcap, at 2.30 p.m., will find the Wildcats and Canadian Chinese lasses struggling to stay on top of the heap. Each have a defeat chalked against them and if they are to stay in the pennant race, cannot afford to lose another. I understand that the Canucks are likely to be short-handed for this fracas, so the Wildcats must be sure to take the honours, despite the absence of Coach Nip Lum who will be engaged with the Recreio Bees.

POSTPONED FIXTURE

The Recreio Aces will play off their postponed fixture with the Victoria Recreation Club at 11.45 a.m., on the home lot. The unbeaten league leaders should make short work of the keen but inexperienced V.R.C. gang.

The "big" game of the day will also be played, on the Recreio ground, starting at 2.30 p.m., and will see two well balanced squads, Chung Hwa and Recreio Bees, in opposition.

The Chinese boys have a decided edge in their battery of Tuffy Chinn and Nip Lum, and this advantage should give them victory over their opponents who are their equal in other phases of the game, with the probable exception of experience.

DOUBLE-HEADER
The Baseballers and the Centra Brits take the field in the first of double header on the C.B.A. ground.
Judging from the grand fight the British boys put up against the Recreio juniors, in their previous outing, the hard-ball players are not going to have as easy a time as they think they are.

INDIA'S GENEROSITY TO BRITISH CAUSE DESPITE COMMUNAL DISPUTES

LONDON, Dec. 15 (BWS).—In a statement yesterday in the House of Lords, the Secretary for India, Marquis of Zetland, said that the Indian Princes and peoples continued to express their "detestation of the crimes perpetrated by Nazi Germany against all the laws of God and man" and instanced the Viceroy's Fund, which totalled £475,000, for which no appeal had been made.

Further examples were gifts from the Maharaja of Gondal and the Nawab of Rampur, the former having allocated £7,500 for the dependents of those lost in the Royal Oak and the latter had given 1,000,000 rupees for motor ambulances.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

For the benefit of German propagandists, who spent their time explaining the plight of the Indian people, the Marquis of Zetland said he would like to add a single other example of generosity.

"In one district in the Punjab, with few wealthy people among the residents, the Governor was recently handed a wholly unsolicited gift of 17,000 rupees, all in currency notes, to aid in overthrowing Nazi Germany."

Neither was assistance limited to money gifts. Among the martial races there had been a spontaneous and eager desire to enlist in the forces.

POLITICAL DISPUTE

Turning to the political field, the Marquis of Zetland regretted to say that difficulties persisted. While in the Punjab, Bengal and Sind the Governments' Legislatures were successfully functioning and in Assam an alternative Government had accepted office. In seven other provinces, which had Congress Ministries, the administration had been taken over by the Governors.

Although the transition was effected smoothly and, broadly speaking, the policies were assisted by the Legislatures before the resignations being carried out, the transfer was contrary to the desire of the British Government and had put back the hands of the clock 30 years.

The Marquis of Zetland dealt with the latest Congress statement and said that the Government could not agree that no communal differences arose in meeting Congress demands.

MAIN DIFFICULTY

He pointed out that no constitution could be expected to function successfully unless met by the assent of the minorities. The main difficulty was still the differences of opinion between the Congress and the Moslem League.

Although a numerical minority, there between eighty and ninety millions affected.

The Marquis of Zetland appealed to the leaders of both sides to call a truce and said he had derived some little encouragement from the report that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Mr. Jinnah had arranged for a further discussion, which, he hoped, would cover a wide field.

In conclusion, the Marquis of Zetland said that the internal difficulties did not lessen the abhorrence with which Indian creeds and communities viewed the Nazi system.

GROTESQUE IDEA

German propaganda suggested that India should look to Nazi Germany for freedom.

"The conception of Herr Hitler as the liberator is so grotesque as to bring a smile to the face of anyone, except possibly a German. If Herr Hitler and his associates imagine they may look for aid from India, they are heading for one of the greatest disillusionments of their lives," concluded the Marquis.

STRONG U.S. SYMPATHY FOR ALLIES

AGGRESSION AND NAZIISM MUST NOT TRIUMPH

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—Mr. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, said yesterday that the people of the United States wish to resort to all possible means, short of war, to prevent the triumph of Nazism and aggression in Finland, Austria and the Balkans.

He expressed sympathy for the Allies and said that the British Navy is now making the economic war against Germany effective. May God help them to make it completely successful.

ANTI-NAZI RALLY

Mr. Green was addressing an Anti-Nazi Rally in Madison Square Garden and the other speakers included Governor Lehman and ex-President Herbert Hoover.

CONTINUED SOVIET AID FOR CHINA

POLICY REMAINS UNCHANGED

KUNMING, Dec. 15 (Central).—Dr. Sun Fo, President of the Legislative Yuan, who arrived here from Rangoon by plane yesterday following an extensive tour in Europe, told the Press that British, French and Soviet sympathy with China is daily increasing.

MATERIAL ASSISTANCE

Soviet material assistance to China will be continued, and the Soviet policy towards China will remain unchanged, he said. In his opinion Japan's hopes to bring about a rapprochement with the Soviet Union will not likely materialize.

NO PACT WITH JAPAN

Dr. Sun said that most observers in Europe think it unlikely that the United States will conclude a new trade pact with Japan. They believe that China will emerge victorious from the present war. Official quarters in London maintain that China has already achieved successes in the two years' hostilities.

ONLY ONE SURVIVOR

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—No list of the casualties on board the destroyer H.M.S. Duchess, which collided with another warship yesterday, has yet been issued. The sole surviving officer is Probationary Lieutenant J.R. Pritchard, R.N.V.R.

HUNAN DAILY TO RAISE FUNDS FOR GLIDERS

HENGYANG, HUNAN, Dec. 15 (Central).—Following the example of the Chungking Ta Kung Pao, the Ta Kang Pao, a Chinese daily in Hengyang, Hunan, is raising funds for the purchase of gliders to be donated to the Government. Donations sufficient for buying three gliders have already been obtained. The glider movement is intended to make the Chinese air-minded.

Rationing In Japan

MOVE TO OVERCOME HOARDING

TOKYO, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—Influential members of the Government favour consideration of the ticket rationing system for principal daily necessities, according to the Asahi today. This move, the newspaper says, is being considered for adjusting supply and demand and to overcome the hoarding of rice, coal, charcoal, sugar and other commodities.

PUPPET MAYOR OF SHANGHAI IN DISGRACE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—Alleged to have fallen into disgrace with the Japanese authorities, Mayor Fu Siao-en, of the Municipality of Greater Shanghai, is shortly resigning and is being succeeded by his Secretary-General, So Hsi-wen, says a Chinese report.

PEIPING, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—The Chinese and Japanese authorities in Peiping are considering detailed measures for putting into effect a rationing system for rice, states the Hsin Min Po. It is planned that each Chinese household will receive a fixed amount of rice for a certain period. Details are not yet available.

BRITISH CONVOYS FOR NEUTRALS

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—Mr. Winston Churchill, in a written reply in the House of Commons, said: "Protection of our convoy system is available on certain conditions to neutrals and I believe their losses would be reduced if they accepted this protection more often. The Admiralty have taken, and will continue to take, all possible steps to encourage neutral shipping engaged in trade with, or for, the Allies to participate in British convoys."

$1,000 CLAIM AGAINST CABARET PROPRIETOR: DEFENDANT TESTIFIES

In the Summary Court yesterday, before Mr. Justice B. E. Lindsell a claim for $1,000 was brought by Daniel Lee against R. Woodcraft, proprietor of the defunct Coconut Grove cabaret, West Point, and Tai Tung-kee.

The money was due, plaintiff alleges, under a written undertaking made and given by the defendants dated May 9, 1938.

Particulars of the claim are: Passage to Singapore for plaintiff and wife, $370; cash for expenses on board, $100; daily expenses at $4 per day from May 30 to October 30, 1938, $612. Plaintiff waives the sum of $82 in order to bring the action within the jurisdiction of the Summary Court.

Plaintiff was represented by Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, while Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the defence.

Defendant, in evidence, said that he was at present operating the Rex Cabaret. He first met plaintiff, who was partner with second defendant of the Kwong Chau ballroom, in March last, and a proposition was made to him in connection with the business.

FIFTY-FIFTY BASIS

First asked for a loan of $5,000 for the business, witness said he and second defendant eventually arranged to carry on the business on a fifty-fifty basis, plaintiff to therefrom.

Witness said he asked for a list of the debts of the business, which amounted to $4,500. He believed plaintiff when he said the debts were that figure.

Subsequent to that, the undertaking mentioned was entered into. One of the terms of the undertaking, said witness, was that plaintiff should attend to all claims and legal proceedings in connection with the debts, as he was the only person who knew anything about them.

If it had been disclosed to him at the time the agreement was made that the debts were substantially more than $4,500, said witness, he would not have entered into the agreement.

The hearing was then adjourned. A counter-claim has been filed.

The marriages took place yesterday at the Registry, Supreme Court, before Mr. T. J. Gould, Deputy Registrar, of Mr. Kan Ping-hung, merchant, of No. 23, Wellington Street, and Miss Fung Wing-fong, of No. 24, Stanley Street, and Mr. Ng Po-sun, clerk of the Medical Department, and Miss To Pui-kui, of No. 53, Yu Chau Street.

HITLER PREDICTED OWN FALL

The most effective indictment of Hitler and his philosophy is expressible in his own words.

In "Fifty Facts About Hitler," a vest-pocket booklet issued by the War Facts Press, price 3d, telling quotations are made from "Mein Kampf" and from the German Chancellor's speeches.

A curiously prophetic example from "Mein Kampf" is: The fact of forming an alliance with Russia would be the signal for a new war. And the result of that would be the end of Germany.

The writer of the booklet points out that even this grim foreboding was a little wide of the mark. "It is the end of Hitlerism, not of Germany, that is at hand."

BURIED DOLL IN PLACE OF BABY

A doctor's action in putting into a coffin a doll instead of the child's body was described by the coroner as "absolutely irregular" at the inquest on a two-weeks-old child at Narborough, Leicester,shire.

The body was discovered at Syston, Leicestershire, three weeks ago, and Scotland Yard officers were called in.

Sir Bernard Spilsbury, the pathologist, told the coroner, Mr. G. E. Bouskell, that some of the remains were preserved.

The child's father said Dr. Albert Lovell told him that he would see to the burial.

Evidence was given by Dr. Theo Zebulun Lovell, of Leicester, brother of Dr. Albert Lovell. He said he intended to make a post mortem, but stress of work prevented it. He put the doll in the coffin for sentimental reasons. His daughter died in similar circumstances a year before.

PETITION BY TAXI COMPANIES REFUSED

The Government has refused the recent petition of local taxi companies seeking permission to increase the present fares. It was reliably learned yesterday.

Owing to the higher petrol duties, the taxi operators recently decided to ask for official sanction to raise fares from 40 cents per mile to 50 cents, and proportionate increase for smaller taxis in Kowloon.

The official attitude, it is learned, is that the higher cost of fuel is not sufficient to justify such fare increases as desired by the companies, which may make further representations in the near future.

A Feat Of Chinese Engineering

THE MOTOR ROAD FROM BURMA

Mr. F. Burton Leach, late Chief Secretary to the Government of Burma, lectured to the East India Association and the Royal Central Asian Society on "Burma and her Land Communications." Sir Hugh Stephenson, late Governor of Burma, was in the chair.

Mr. Leach devoted his attention mainly to the recent construction of the motor road from the Yangtze Valley to the Burma frontier.

Last December, he said, the American Ambassador to China motored the whole distance from Chungking to Rangoon, about 2,000 miles, in 13 days—an average of 150 miles a day—which was sufficient to prove that the road was quite fit for traffic. The most difficult part of the work of construction was the last 350 miles from Hsialkwan to the Burmese frontier.

No one who knew anything of that tangled mass of precipitous mountains, cleft by gigantic torrents and the upper waters of mighty rivers, could fail to be amazed at the engineering feat which had been accomplished, almost without mechanical appliances, by human labour working against time, when the country was in the throes of a disastrous war.

It could only have been accomplished by the people who built the Great Wall of China.

LINKING UP BY RAIL

Mr. W. C. Chen, Counsellor of the Chinese Embassy, said that the Chinese Government had deemed it of vital importance to construct the road as soon as possible, and also to build a light railway along the route, so that it could be used in all seasons of the year. Urgency arose from the pressing need for munitions and other supplies.

The lecturer had pointed out that the Burma Railway to Lashio was some 80 miles distant from the proposed railhead on the Chinese side of the frontier. If the Burma Government was not inclined to complete the link China would like to be allowed to do so.

From the tourist point of view, the through railway would open up a country like Switzerland for beauty.—The Times.

Woman Found
Hanged By Strap

JURY'S VERDICT
AT INQUEST

An inquest was held at Kowloon Court before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen yesterday into the death of Chang Oi, 26 married woman, who hanged herself at No. 173, Lai Chi Kok Road, ground floor, on November 21.

The discovery was reported to the police by the husband of the deceased, Lam Chung, who said he awoke in the middle of the night to find his wife hanging by the rear part of the bed by a strap that was used to support her baby on her back.

RENT TROUBLE

"They had been married seven years and had a son. Their only trouble was rent, and they owed more than a month's rent to the principal tenant. Witness was an unlicensed hawk and earned about 60 or 70 cents a day.

The jury comprised Messrs. H. G. J. McNeary (foreman), T. E. McMillan and J. N. Murray.

A verdict of death by suicide was returned.

FIRE INQUIRY

Mr. E. Greenwood, Assistant Station Officer of the Fire Brigade, testified that five persons jumped from the windows at the rear of the house.

BUILT IN 1901

Mr. J. Hempsey, of the Building Authority, testified that the tenement house was built in 1901, and was approved by the authorities then. The premises were extensively altered in 1920. He submitted to the Court a "most up-to-date" plan of the house which was made in 1920. He said that there was no fire-escape on the floors and the staircase and floor were entirely built of wood.

Regarding the partition between balconies, he said that the authorities allowed such divisions constructed not more than three-and-a-half feet in height. Permits would not be granted if tenants or landlords wanted to build them higher than the height specified.

Following a brief retirement, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death and added a rider pointing out the inadequate provision of fire-escapes in tenement houses of this type.

Stanley Ernest Boon, aged 28, a private in the 2nd Bn. the North Staffordshire Regiment, was executed at Wandsworth Prison for the murder of Mabel Maud Bundy, aged 42, at Hindhead. Private Arthur John Smith, of the same regiment, was convicted with Boon, and was also executed.

RICE

PERHAPS the most notable development in the Far East since the commencement of the war in Europe has been the increase in the price of rice, the staple food of hundreds of millions of people who live so close to the minimum of subsistence that the slightest fluctuation in its value leads to grave social consequences.

FORTUNATELY for China's resistance, crops within the country have been good and the situation in the interior is 'little changed from what it has been during the past two years. In Japan, the situation is far different. The failure of the Korean crop has seriously upset the food situation within the Mikado's empire, causing an abrupt rise of almost 30 per cent in the price of the staple. Production in Japan proper has also suffered, and not for climatic reasons alone. The effort of keeping one and a half million men constantly under arms has involved, above all, a drain on the agricultural man-power of the nation. Attempts to transplant to the land hundreds of thousands of textile workers thrown out of employment by the partial closing of the Osaka mills have ended in failure, chiefly through the resistance of the workers themselves. The fact that the increased rice price came almost simultaneously with a decrease in the level of wages has added further to the discontent, and feeling against the continuance of the war in China, rightly regarded as the source of all the trouble, is constantly on the increase. In 1919, Japan was, in contrast to today, riding high on the wave of prosperity resulting from the acquisition of markets formerly occupied by the belligerents in the first World War. Yet the increase in agricultural prices brought on the famous rice riots, to quell which six divisions of troops were brought into the capital.

THE SITUATION in Japan is paralleled by that in the occupied areas, although there does not seem to be a direct economic connection between the two. In Shanghai, vicious profiteering has lifted rice out of the reach of the average wage-earner, and serious strikes have resulted. The Municipal Council of the International Settlement is fighting hard to keep food prices down, but the measures so far taken have not been particularly effective, and the speculative rise, with its attendant social consequences, goes on.

IN THE BRITISH COLONIES of Eastern Asia, a rise has also taken place, although the problem of legislative control has been more thoroughly and effectively tackled. Locally, the rise has averaged 12 per cent. In Singapore, an early tendency to profiteering caused an increase which, as elsewhere, coincided with a growth of strike activity especially among Chinese workers. Within the past few weeks, according to the "Malaya Tribune," 1,500 saw-mill operatives struck in Singapore with a demand of 40 per cent more pay, 500 foundrymen walked out in Ipoh, and the coal mine workers of Batu Arang have taken similar action, asking for a 50 per cent increase. In each case, there were clashes with the police, and the miners have been ordered to return to work by Government which

EXCERPTS FROM

The following excerpts from letters addressed to Sir Robert Ho Tung, Kt., LL.D., by the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Governor of Hongkong are published for general information:—

Treasury Chambers.

S. W. Whitehall,
November 18, 1939.

Dear Sir Robert.—The Secretary of State for the Colonies has informed me that you have offered to lend to His Majesty's Government the sum of £10,000, free of interest, for a period of two years. I should like to take this opportunity to convey to you my sincere thanks for this generous offer, which I gratefully accept on behalf of His Majesty's Government. I warmly appreciate the spirit which prompted you to make it.

Yours sincerely,
(Sd.) JOHN SIMON.

Sir Robert Ho Tung,
H.E.'s LETTER
Government House,
Hongkong,
December 11, 1939.

My dear Sir Robert,
It gives me great pleasure to forward to you this letter from the Chancellor of the Exchequer which acknowledges and accepts the loan which you have generously offered to His Majesty's Government.

Sir John Simon has asked whether there would be any objection to the publication of that offer and its acceptance. I trust that you see none and that you will concur with their publication. Simultaneously in London and here.

If the procedure suggested in the second paragraph of Sir John Simon's letter meets your convenience, I shall be obliged if it may be followed.

I take this opportunity of expressing my personal appreciation of your public-spirited offer of the use of two river steamers for the use of the Royal Navy for the period of the War. This, as you are aware, is under the active consideration of the Naval Authorities at the present time.

(Yours sincerely),
(Sd.) G. A. S. NORTHCOTE.

IDENTIFYING AIRCRAFT

To familiarize British gunners and observers with the appearance of various types of aircraft a series of demonstrations has been arranged on the East Coast.

A succession of British aircraft—bomber, fighter, and reconnaissance—flies overhead, each giving a five minutes' display at different heights. Members of the Observer Corps and anti-aircraft gunners watch from the shore, and naval officers and gunners from a moored boat.

Officers of the Royal Air Force act as instructors. They distribute among the gunners and observers photographs of all types of British and German aircraft taken from different angles. The points to watch for are then explained and the exercise begins.

The practical demonstration is necessarily confined to British types, but thorough acquaintance with these should lead to quicker identification of an enemy aircraft.—The Times.

has ruled that their walkout constituted "interference with essential services in wartime. It is clear, however, that here wages will come up to meet, at least to some extent, the increased cost of living. The Singapore municipality granted extra food allowances to its employees early this month, to take effect retroactively from November 1. Chinese piece-goods merchants are discussing the granting of a 20 per cent increase to their labour.

INDO-CHINA AND SIAM, great producers of rice both do not appear, as yet, to have suffered a serious internal price rise, but may do so if exports increase unduly due to shortage elsewhere.

IN ANY CASE, the information to hand indicates that the "rice front" is one to watch, especially in Japan it is fast becoming the main issue of Government policy, exceeding in immediate urgency both the perennial question of "settlement of the China incident" and the complicated and spectacular gyrations by means of which Tokyo's diplomats seek to extract profit from the war in the West.

All-Burma Fabian League
Pledge Support To China

CHUNGKING, DEC. 15 (CENTRAL).—EVER SINCE CHINA WAS ENTANGLED IN AN UNPROVOKED AND DEFENSIVE WAR WITH THE JAPANESE, OUR LEAGUE TOOK THE LEAD IN THE BOYCOTT OF JAPANESE GOODS CAMPAIGN," says the All-Burma Fabian League, Rangoon, in a special message to Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

The message will be presented in person by U Ba Choe, editor of "Deedok," member of the Goodwill Mission of Burma to China, and president of the League.

"We deem it a rare honour to address Your Excellencies," begins the Fabian message, "on the occasion of the visit of our President U Ba Choe, to Chungking, the present seat of the China Government, as one of the members of the Goodwill Mission.

"For the past many years it has been our pleasant task to work throughout the length and breadth of Burma for fostering friendly relations between the Burmese people and the people of China, the oldest and most civilized nation in the world.

"As there had existed the most cordial relations between the two peace-loving Buddhist countries from times immemorial, we did not experience much difficulty in reviving the old friendship. Our efforts have resulted in the present Goodwill Mission which we earnestly hope will be a successful one."

INTERNATIONAL
SPEE

Rules Relating To Use Of A
Neutral Port

LONDON, Dec. 15 (BWS).—In the House of Lords yesterday, the Minister for Co-ordination of Defence, stated that the International Law, in relation to the Graf Spee, was under active examination between the British and Uruguayan Governments.

It is pointed out in naval circles in London that the provisions of Articles 14 and 17 of The Hague Convention of 1907, which contain rules relating to the repair, in neutral ports, of belligerent warships, do not distinguish between damage sustained in action and damage due to other causes.

NOT ALLOWED

There is substantial support for the view that extension of stay or use of shore facilities to repair damage due to enemy action should not be allowed and a number of neutral governments have issued express regulations denying the use of shore facilities or any extension of permitted stay beyond 24 hours, if damage is due to enemy action.

Not Stifling Of Criticism

SECRET SESSION OF COMMONS

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—The secret session of the House of Commons is an extension rather than a limitation of the principle of free discussion permitted in war-time, as in peace-time, because it is a source of strength and greater efficiency to the Administration rather than a stifling of criticism.

The Government acceded to the Opposition request in the full knowledge that criticisms would be made and appreciating the sense of responsibility which prompted members to seek the opportunity to speak with freedom and without providing the enemy with propaganda material.

The session is secret, not because damaging information will be imparted, but because a wartime frank discussion of problems of supply and service departments relating to the conduct of the war

The rumours about town concerning the arrival of a British steamer from Atlantic and European ports is becoming a game. The steamer which left England with 700 passengers, including 150 children, should be in port early next week.

Besides the heavy passenger list it is understood that the steamer is carrying a large amount of mail and cargo.

Imperial Airways' inward Sunday service from Bangkok has been delayed 48 hours and will not be in Hongkong before Tuesday.

Pan American Airways' report that one of their Clippers will call here on Monday.

And an Italian liner should be showing up on our horizon over this week-end from European and southern ports of call.

ONE OF THE Canadian steamers stopped by our port for a few days during the week.

Up from Manila and back to his office returned that businessman who won't stay put: Mr. R. R. Roxburgh, number one over at John I. Thomycroft & Co., Ltd.

Sailing on the steamer were Rev. & Mrs. K. C. Phillips, en route to Vancouver. Many members of the China Inland Mission and friends wished "bon voyage" these well-known missionary personalities.

However, the parties and gatherings of history surrounded Major and Mrs. V. E. Ducloux, and their two children. The Major, very well-known to Hongkong residents, is the Trade Commissioner for the Canadian Government and has been residing in our city for the past eight years. Now, he and his nice family are travelling to Shanghai where new duties of the Canadian Government await his supervision. It is indeed a sad occurrence, for he will certainly be Yoyang (Yochow), Japanese base of operations, in North Hunan. With their retreat by land already cut the Japanese are loading their military supplies aboard warships in the Yangtze River as a precaution.

After the recapture of Yanglowze, 37 miles north-east of Yoyang, the Chinese force split itself into two columns. One column yesterday pressed southward to Linsiang, 29 miles north-east of Yoyang, where, after establishing contact with the Chinese units advancing westward from Hsiting, it continues its advance on Yoyang.

Another column yesterday drove northward along the Canton-Hankow Railway and had an encounter with a detachment of Japanese reinforcements at Chaolichiao, 45 miles north-east of Yoyang.

A Chinese unit smashed into the Japanese aerodrome at Pailoki, 14 miles north of Yoyang across the Yangtze River, and set fire to the buildings there.

KWEILIN, Dec. 15 (Central).—A Chinese column recaptured Sintangpu, on the Tungshan-Yangsin highway, in South Hupeh, on Wednesday night and is pressing toward Yanglowtung on the Hunan-Hupeh border, 38 miles north-east of Yoyang.

Chinese troops continue to exert pressure on Tungcheng, Japanese base of operations in south Hupeh. The highway between Tungcheng and Tashaping, a neighbouring town, has been cut. To the east of Tungyang which was recaptured last Tuesday, the Chinese are attacking Pelyichiao.

CHRISTMAS
TALK BY THE KING

The King is to broadcast on Christmas Day and the B.B.C. is reviving for the occasion the great "Round the Empire" programme, instituted by King George V., depicting the Commonwealth as a vast loyal family of nations. When the King speaks at three o'clock in the afternoon, at the end of a 45-minute radio tour of the Empire, he will acknowledge the homage of united peoples in "battle dress."

The programme will illustrate the reactions of the British "in the street" under war-time conditions at Christmas. There will be actual relays from all the Dominions. The microphone tour begins in the South of England and will then take the world-wide audience in turn to the Midlands, Wales, the North of England, Northern Ireland and Scotland. Representative members of the three fighting services will then probably take part.

Contributions are to follow from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, and South Africa. The Malay States will represent the Colonial Empire, and a recorded message will be flown to England for inclusion.

After wiping out the Japanese in the outskirts, the Chinese broke into the city. Casualties were inflicted and many rifles captured.

The Chinese have also launched a series of raids on Shaoxi, south-east of Fenyang, inflicting losses on the Japanese.

NAZI POCKET BATTLESHIP FORCED TO SEEK REFUGE IN MONTEVIDEO AFTER TERRIBLE MAULING

Decks A Shambles Of Dead And Wounded

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—The latest, but badly damaged, Nazi pocket-battleship, Admiral Graf Spee, is now licking her wounds, which are plainly visible from the shore, in Montevideo, while outside a British warship is salting up and down on patrol.

The damage to the Admiral Graf Spee has put the Germans in somewhat of a predicament. The German Minister in Montevideo says she was forced into harbour by lack of fuel.

At the same time, the Berlin Official German News Agency is alleging that the British warships used mustard gas, which spoiled part of the ship's food and that is why she put in to Montevideo.

Graf Spee

In any case, it is not believed that the Graf Spee will be in a fit state to fight her way out of harbour with any chance of reaching Germany safely.

The whole incident is still regarded in Germany as a very signal triumph and it is argued that the pocket battleship has proved to be a perfect weapon for prowling the seas and harrying merchant vessels.

The Berlin correspondent of the Rotterdamse Courant thinks that Germany's ship-building programme may be altered accordingly.

REINFORCED SQUADRON

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—A strongly reinforced squadron of British warships is patrolling the mouth of the River Plate, outside of Montevideo, where the Graf Spee is expected to remain until Sunday at the least.

It is announced that the Uruguayan Government might allow her to remain as long as is necessary to make repairs and the same facility would be granted to British warships.

A very good reason for thinking that she may accept internment for the duration of the war, rather than risk another engagement, is that the crew is effecting such repairs as they can themselves as shipyard engineers have refused the request for assistance by the German Legation and a company is also preventing its steel from being used by any other concern for the purpose.

Sixty-two survivors of British vessels sunk by the Graf Spee were landed last night.

Interviewed, they confirmed that there was no truth in the gas shells allegation and reckoned that the Graf Spee was hit 16 times.

One survivor said that the German crew's average age was 23. They were astonished at being engaged in battle and thought that their only job was to sink cargo ships.

EXETER SIGHTED

Capt. Dove, of the Africa Shell, one of the vessels sunk by the Graf Spee, said that the battleship thought that she was near some cargo ships when she sighted H.M.S. Exeter. The order to man positions was sounded.

"I and my colleagues were locked up in the mess deck. The Graf Spee opened fire and the Exeter immediately replied. We played cards, including bridge, throughout the battle.

"One shell exploded near us. When we reached Montevideo, a German officer entered the mess-room and said, 'Gentlemen, for you the war is ended.'"

Capt. Dove described the Commander of the Graf Spee, Capt. Landsorp, who fought at Jutland, as a great gentleman.

Referring to the battle, Capt. Landsorp said to him, "You British are hard."

All survivors agreed that the British victory was due to the magnificent handling of the cruisers, the excellent gunnery and unparalleled daring.

VIEWS EXCHANGED

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—Reuter learns that views are being exchanged between the British and Uruguayan Governments regarding the Graf Spee, now lying in Uruguayan waters.

It is noted that the Uruguayan Government, in proclaiming its neutrality on Sept. 5, stated that it would follow the provision of the Hague Convention, 1907.

The British Minister in Uruguay has been asked to convey the BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—Without food, with confusion on board, and her decks a shambles of dead and wounded, the Graf Spee crept into Montevideo harbour last night like a wounded animal worried by terriers.

Uruguayan officials stated that her officers were thoroughly dispirited when they reached port.

Members of the British Legation, returning from a visit to the British cruisers, which are also anchored in Montevideo, assert that their crews are intact and that they suffered no casualties.

NELSON'S SIGNAL

Press reports state that Commodore Hardwood, before the action made Nelson's famous signal: "England Expects Every Man To Do His Duty," from the cruiser Ajax.

Press representatives, who made a launch trip around the Graf Spee, reported the vessel's state as "shocking"—eloquent evidence of the excellence of British gunnery—as she bore shell marks all along the waterline. A huge hole gaped in her control-tower, which was completely perforated and there was another hole in her bows.

A BRITISH VICTORY

U.S. Press On Graf Spee Battle

NEW YORK, 15 (Reuter)—The newspapers describe the Graf Spee fight as the first big naval battle of the war in streamer headlines and proclaim it a British victory. It is believed here that the Graf Spee will be interned in Uruguay for the duration of the war.

It is reported in messages from Montevideo that the Captain of the German ship asked the German Minister in Uruguay to negotiate with the Uruguayan Government for the battleship's immediate internment for the duration of the war on the grounds that it would be impossible for her to make the necessary repairs within the twenty-four hours she is allowed to remain in harbour and that even if these repairs are possible, the vessel could not go to sea again without encountering British warships.

thanks of the British Government to the Uruguay Government for their prompt action in obtaining freedom for English merchant seamen held by the Graf Spee.

ACHILLES UNSCATHED

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—The British Naval Attaché, Capt. H. W. V. McCall, R.N., announced last night that H.M.S. Exeter, which was damaged in the naval battle with the Admiral Graf Spee, is steaming away. A Montevideo report says that H.M.S. Ajax, was superficially damaged and H.M.S. Achilles was unscathed.

Despite the refusal of dockyard workers to effect repairs to the Graf Spee, it is believed that she is most anxious to leave Montevideo at the earliest possible moment.

Miss Mya Dein, deputy leader of the Burmese Mission to Chungking, at a tea party. Her beautiful national headdress was greatly admired.

New Zealand's Part In First Real Naval Engagement Of The War

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—A talk on the battle between the three British cruisers the Admiral Graf Spee was given from Davenport by Commander Taprell-Doring, better known to his many readers as "Taffrail."

The Exeter, he said, was a vessel of 8,400 tons, carrying six eight-inch guns, while the Ajax and Achilles, sister ships of about 7,000 tons each carried eight six-inch guns. All three have a speed of about 32 knots.

The Achilles is actually one of the two cruisers in the New Zealand Squadron (the other being the Leander, the flagship) and "Taffrail" said that as she was chiefly manned by New Zealanders, congratulations were due to New Zealand for the part she had played in the first real naval engagement of this war.

POWERFUL ARMAMENTS

Unlike the Rawalpindi-Deutschland battle, this one was not so one-sided. Although the Admiral Graf Spee is knots slower than the British ships, she carries six eleven-inch guns firing a shell of 716-pounds each, with a range limited only by visibility and distance.

The Exeter's shells, although of the same range, were only 256-pounds while the Ajax and Achilles shells were only 100-pounds each.

A broadside from the Graf Spee, therefore, would weigh about 4,768-pounds, while a broadside from the combined British ships would only weigh 3,136-pounds.

None of the four ships were heavily armoured and a single shell from the Nazi ship might well have sunk one of the British ships. But, in the traditional style of the Royal Navy, our ships did not hesitate. They attacked the German vessel and forced her to take refuge in a battered condition.

THE FINAL END

It was impossible to say what the final of the Admiral Graf Spee will be. International law permits her to remain in a neutral port long enough to make the necessary repairs to become seaworthy and to take on enough fuel to reach the nearest port of her country, but nothing else.

If the German warship is interned, she will be out of action for the duration of the war. If she attempts to leave, she will be shelled by the British cruisers which have now found her and will not leave her.

81 KILLED IN CHLORINE GAS EXPLOSION

BUCHAREST, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—A heavy loss of life is reported as a result of an explosion in a chlorine factory in Trans-Sylvania.

Tanks of chlorine gas blew up during the night and so far the bodies of 81 factory workers have been recovered. Others are injured or gassed.

Escaped chlorine gas badly hampered rescue work.

ALLIED CONTROL EFFECTIVE

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—The effect of the British and Allied control on German exports is shown in the November trade figures issued by the United States Government.

It is revealed that Germany had only imported £500 of goods into Germany in November, compared with £3,000,000 in November last year.

The next few days should see some interesting developments.

It is interesting to note, concluded "Taffrail," that the man after whom she is named, Admiral Graf Spee, was defeated at Falkland Islands on Dec. 8, 1914, twenty-five years ago.

MINISTER'S PRAISE

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—Lord Chatfield, Minister for Co-ordination of Defence, enlisting the men of the Exeter, Ajax and Achilles, in a statement in the House of Lords, said that the British warcraft had been hunting for the Nazi pocket-battleship for weeks.

Any ship which got into touch with her was not going to lose her, even if it meant a battle against great odds.

FINNS CLAIM SUCCESS AFTER A 3-DAY BATTLE

SOVIET NAVAL UNITS IN ACTION

HELSINKI, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—A Communiqué states that at Tolvaajervi, Finnish counter-attacks were crowned with success and after a three-day battle it was confirmed that two Soviet regiments were destroyed and that the district of Tolvaajervi is again entirely in the hands of Finnish troops, who are pursuing the Russians.

KARELIA FIGHTING

In the course of local fighting in Karelia, eleven Soviet tanks were destroyed.

On the eastern frontier, Soviet troops continue attacks at Koeronoja station between Titkarenta and Kietelae. The Russians used gas at Suomussalmi.

SOVIET FLEET

Units of the Soviet Fleet bombarded Kolvisto, Finnish coastal batteries replied and the Soviet vessels withdrew.

SOVIET CLAIM

MOSCOW, Dec. 15 (Reuter)—A Soviet communiqué claims that Soviet troops have reached a point in Central Finland—sixty-seven miles from the frontier. It also claims an advance in the Murmansk region.

COMPLETE MANIFESTO OF SIXTH PLENARY SESSION, K JOMINTANG

CHINA WILL FIGHT ON: RESISTANCE HELPS LOCALIZE EVIL OF WORLD WAR

Many of the deficiencies our people have displayed during recent years are to be attributed to the fact that we have not yet brought into operation the Tsungli's design for local autonomy in hsien districts as administrative units. As a result no stable basis for general progress has been laid, nor has progress been achieved in the political organization and education of the people. These failings became all the more manifest with the war.

The Central Government issued in September, this year, its Outline of Hsien Government Organization and called upon the local inhabitants of hsien districts to take upon their own shoulders the progressive application of the provisions of this outline for control, education, and public welfare and security. They were further urged to devise their own means of transforming for the better all that concerned the well-being of their community, by assigning to qualified individuals posts as consultative directors, who, immersed in the actual affairs of the people, would be in a position to advise and guide them and draw out their capacity for self-government.

We consider this enactment a veritable guarantee of the future establishment of the Constitution, and a milestone on the Chinese people's road to the status of a modern democratic nation. It must come into operation not only in the rear, but also in the war areas, despite all difficulties confronting its application there. It will prove a component part in the fabric of victory by the development and conservation of the nation's available human talent and energy that will result from it.

RESISTANCE WILL GO ON

With regard to the settled policy of resistance, the Generalissimo put the position with the utmost clarity in his inaugural address. He said: "As long as Japan remains blind to her error, Resistance will never cease." His second important point was "We shall strive for victory with confidence in the friendly nations but with reliance only upon ourselves; we shall at the same time be providing a shield for world peace." Thirdly, he said: "We shall never deviate a jot from the four-point national policy laid down at the time of the enemy's invasion of Manchuria, the four points being: opposition to Japanese aggression; the observance of all international obligations; refusal to join the anti-comintern pact; and the maintenance of independence in diplomacy."

All these restated principles have the unanimous assent of the whole nation. The experiences of the last ten months have given us abundant proof of the deep sympathy entertained for our cause by the nations signatory to the Nine-Power Treaty and by other friendly members of the League, for they have extended us much moral and material assistance, especially in such matters as the relief of refugees and the care of the wounded, and even now, with conflict in Europe, they have not ceased to do so. For this we wish to record our heartfelt gratitude; a gratitude shared by every citizen in the land. These gestures confirm our belief that men accord the right-doer the assistance which he deserves.

CHINA AND WORLD WAR

Having fought for more than two years, China is today more than ever alive to the fact that all countries must share security and well-being in common if any one of them is to enjoy these things. Where peace reigns, all countries can benefit from it, yet today we find war is afoot in Europe and mankind is exposed to the peril of unimaginable disaster.

We cannot but feel anxious regarding the world's future; but insofar as it has been in her power, China has, we believe, by reason of her Resistance, been instrumental in localizing and reducing the evil of war in the world. And we are no less strongly of the belief that when the two wars now in progress come to an end there will arise an effective and genuine system of organized security such as may give the nations the opportunity of living side by side in peace and in enlightenment. We are confident that we share this belief with farsighted and responsible statesmen the world over. We hope that they, and all who represent the forces working for peace, will take the establishment of an effective system of collective security as a noble aim worthy of their greatest exertions.

We have but one further point to make. The great national effort that we are now making is from one point of view a process of transition demanded by the logic of events, and from another point of view it is actuated by the instinct of self-preservation. But the sacrifices of those who have fought to the present point of success demand a scrupulously loyal fulfilment of the duties they have left us survivors to perform. This moral obligation every individual must take upon himself as a personal one, seeing in himself, as it were, a factor indispensable to the final success of the revolution. He must cherish the moral values and illustrate in his person the distinctions of false and true, sincerity and hypocrisy. Above all, he must cultivate a spirit of unflinching courage. As a citizen he must be responsible and disciplined in the interests of the nation. Only by assent to the absolute sanctity of military orders and civil law will he achieve integrity as a member of the national cause.

THE NATION'S DUTY

Today, the groundwork for victory is complete. The enemy are in a wilder state of perplexity than ever. With us it remains not only the Party's, but also the whole nation's duty to press on, mindful of the Tsungli's dying admonition "not to compromise or be tricked," with resulting betrayal of our sacred duty.

Of our two great tasks, Resistance and Reconstruction, neither is to be regarded as taking precedence of the other in importance. The ends in view in both cases are equally clear. In Resistance, we set ourselves the aim of expelling the invader from our territory; in Reconstruction, our goal is constitutional government. We conclude with a final appeal to all whose duties lie in the latter province to exert themselves along the lines we have indicated.

SOFTBALL NOTES

At 1.45 p.m., the Canadian Chinese take on the Trojans, and although I feel that the Canucks should put this under their belts with ease, there's no telling as this same Trojan gang put a crimp in the Chinese Baseballers championship chances last year.

HONG GAMES

The first of the Hong games will be the Shell-Wayfoong struggle at 9.45 a.m. on the Le Salle field, while the other match will see the Royal Air Force boys in action against the Texas Oilers at 3.00 p.m. on the Kai Tak ground.

I figure the two oil squads to go down the drain.

PUBLIC-SPIRITED OFFER BY SIR ROBERT HO TUNG

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—It was officially announced in London yesterday that Sir Robert Ho Tung, of Hongkong, had offered to lend His Majesty's Government £10,000 free of interests, for two years.

This public-spirited offer had been gratefully accepted by the Government, on whose behalf a personal letter of thanks has been addressed by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon, to Sir Robert.

RUMANIAN OIL FOR GERMANY

German interests have acquired a Rumanian oil company, the Petrol Block Company, with two medium-sized refineries at Ploesti and Buzau. Their capacity is 800,000 tons of crude oil and 16,000 tons of lubricating oil annually. This is the first Rumanian oil company to be controlled by German capital since the last war.

Petrol Block has been in debt to the extent of £200,000 to a former Czech oil plant manufacturing firm, and, being unable to discharge the debt, has sold the refineries.

This does not mean that Germany gets much more oil from Rumania, but that she gets the oil cheaper as she has not to pay the cost of refining to a third party.

BORING RIGHTS

The refining capacity of the plants which have changed hands, enables Germany to refine 12 per cent. of the Rumanian crude oil production and also to acquire oilfields for boring—which was foreseen in the German-Rumanian trade agreement—in the name of the new company.

At the present rate Germany is expected to import about 1,400,000 tons of Rumanian oil yearly. She will refine nearly two-thirds of these imports in Rumania at cheaper labour and production cost than she can do in Germany.

From 800,000 tons of crude oil can be obtained 200,000 tons of petrol as well as heavy oil, and other derivatives. —Daily Telegraph.

British Answer To Sneers And Protests Over Bremen Incident

NO DESCENT TO NAZI METHODS OF WARFARE

LONDON, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—The Yorkshire Post points out editorially that there is a very clear answer both to the sneers of the enemy and the surprised protests of friends, regarding the forerunner of the British submarine which refrained from torpedoing the Bremen.

MORE IMPORTANT

If the example of Nazi commerce raiders had been followed, Britain would have lost something much more important than a valuable naval prize—she would have betrayed the very cause for which we are fighting.

"We shall not defeat Nazism by descending to Nazi methods of warfare."

The Bremen is too valuable and vulnerable to be used as an armed raider or supply ship, the summary in the Yorkshire Post ends.

The Germans are so taken aback by the British observation of international law that they are unable to give consistent accounts of the circumstances. Thus Trans-Ocean reports that the submarine disappeared without attempting to attack, while Zeccen, in a broadcast to France, asserts that "the truth is that the British submarine did fire a torpedo, but as it was not a German torpedo, it missed its target."

NAZI ADMISSION

BERLIN, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—A German communiqué admits that the British submarine attacked a German cruiser in the North Sea, but conceals the loss of the U-Boat.

ANTI-NAZI SCENES IN URUGUAYAN CAPITAL

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—Remarkable scenes were witnessed in the Uruguayan capital yesterday afternoon as a sequel to the arrival of the battered Nazi warship, Graf Spee. Over 20,000 persons staged a violent anti-Nazi demonstration because of reports that she is being permitted to succour for thirty days and the police were compelled on several occasions to charge the crowd.

Workmen in the local dockyard have threatened to go on strike if the Graf Spee is put into dock for repair.

BRITISH REQUEST

In the meantime, the British authorities have requested the Uruguayan Government to take measures to intern the Graf Spee for the duration or, alternatively, to compel her to leave. It is contended that when a belligerent warship is hotly pursued into a neutral harbour, she cannot claim refuge for more than twenty-four hours.

The British authorities, on instructions from London, have made strong representations to this effect.

It is intimated, however, that no objection would be taken for a brief extension of the period of grace in order that the Graf Spee's dead may be given a naval funeral.

The Commander of the Achilles has expressed a wish to send a contingent ashore to attend the funeral.

FIVE WARSHIPS

Five British warships, including it is reported unofficially, the Barham, are now standing thirty miles off the shore.

Another report suggests that the Graf Spee had sunk two British merchant ships in rapid succession before she was engaged by the British Light-Cruiser Squadron. Authoritative sources state that, in her present condition, the Graf Spee could not possibly put to sea.

GAS ALLEGATIONS

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 15 (Reuter).—The mustard gas-shell allegations put out by the Nazi Legation have been completely exploded by an examination of the casualties by the Uruguayan medical officers. The Medical Officer in charge of the port says that all the injured were wounded by shell splinters. Not one was suffering from the eye injuries associated with mustard gas.

CATHOLIC NEWS & NOTES

ST. LAZARUS: CARDINAL MUNDELEIN: ANOTHER LOSS TO CHURCH

Tomorrow, Dec. 17 there is a traditional celebration in many places of the resurrection of Lazarus, whose dramatic restoration to life at the command of Christ is vividly described by St. John, who was evidently an eye-witness. Of what happened to him after that, beyond the fact that the Gospel tells us of the Jews' desire to have him killed, we have no certain knowledge.

There are, however, a great many legends connected with his name and with that of his sisters, Mary Magdalen and Martha.

According to the Greek tradition, after the Ascension of Jesus the Jews finally carried out their plan to destroy him, though it failed. They put Lazarus and his sisters into a leaky boat and pushed it out to sea at Joppe. The boat unexpectedly survived and brought them to Cyprus where they landed. Lazarus in due course became Bishop of Kition on that island and was there when the Apostles were said to have visited it. After thirty years he died and his remains were brought to Constantinople. This story is a very old one but there is nothing to confirm it.

FRENCH LEGEND
The French legend is not so old, but it is equally persistent. It begins in the same way with the leaking boat but says that the three who were in it were brought to the south of France, where Lazarus became first Bishop of Marseilles. The little town of Les Saintes Maries commemorates the supposed landing place of Magdalen, Martha, Mary the mother of St. James, Lazarus, and a black servant Sarah, to whom the disciples of Provence have great devotion.

There is no foundation for these stories, which cannot be traced further back than the eleventh century. It seems likely that the legends arose through confusion about the name, for there was a bishop named Lazarus in Aix in the 5th century.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN
Stories about the late Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago are being related with such abundance since his death that his name is passing into legend. A bishop whose lying-in-state is visited by over a million persons must obviously have been out of the ordinary, and there is no doubt that the late Cardinal was a very remarkable personality.

A town, a seminary, a women's college and a half of philosophy were named after him in his lifetime, and it is several years since the Mayor of Chicago gave up, in order to give it to him, his own right to "No. 1" on his motor car. He was responsible for the building of 800 new churches, schools and other religious buildings. His chief interests were the poor and suffering and especially the children of the poor.

SCHOOL SYSTEM
Within two months of his installation as Bishop he had set about reorganising the Catholic school system of the city. When he died the Catholic schools of Chicago had 40,000 more pupils than those of New York. He reorganised also the charitable works of the diocese so to produce the maximum of effective work. By 1932 the Catholic charities were feeding, clothing and sheltering more than 150,000 persons. In the years of distress following the war he was responsible for shipping to Europe more than 250,000 barrels of flour.

As his name implied, he was of German ancestry, and his outspoken condemnation of Hitler angered the Nazis in a way that few other statements have done, but it did more than any other

PEOPLE CHOOSE SUBJECTS

PEW QUESTION PAPERS

Christianity and Euthanasia; Is God justified in letting our men die on the battlefield so that Peace may be won? The vital things of life; Christian charity; The origin of hymns; Should a Christian always tell the truth, even to the extent of hurting someone else? Are "white lies" ever justifiable? Church's definition of Heaven; Spiritual healing.

These are some of the subjects people would like dealt with according to replies to pamphlets put in the pews of St. Andrew's Church some weeks ago which asked:—

1. Will you please state some hymns in our St. Andrew's Hymn books, you would like sung.

2. A subject or questions you would like the Vicar to deal with in his sermons.

A note in the Andrian says, "Already we have preached on some of the subjects. We shall preach on the others when the opportunity arises and if we feel that the discussion of the subject would be really helpful or instructive to the congregation."

H.K. STOCK EXCHANGE

MANILA GOLD SHARES

The past week has been reminiscent of the more palmy days of the share market. It opened with enquiries entering the market at first haltingly, but as the week wore on the volume of trading gained strength and signs of confidence were more pronounced. This led to holders increasing their idea of values which traders proceeded to partially satisfy. On its becoming apparent scrip was running short, prices were again gradually lifted, but without too much eagerness, resulting in an increase in the turnover. The advance in price level has been quietly maintained, and at the close they are a distinct improvement on those at the opening of the week, and the thirst for scrip continues. Closing tone, encouraging.

After ruling steady, the market eased in sympathy with cotton prices but rallied slightly on the issue of United States questionnaires.

COTTON: There were heavy profit-taking and Southern selling against Loan repurchases which was met by Trade support on the scale down, demand being otherwise lacking.

RUBBER: There was a broader general demand and good factory interest in nearbys and actuals, while contracts were scarce. November consumption of 54,322 tons is above expectations and is causing an upward revision of the estimates for December. We would remain bullish, believing that the scarcity of supplies will soon be felt here.

WHEAT: Prices declined on the easiness of the Canadian markets, but sizable profit-taking and realizing was well absorbed. The mill markets are steady while the cash market remains firm. No indication of relief in the drought sections is forecasted.

HIDES: The market reflects the better tone of Spots. Packers are reported to be holding for 3/4 cent advance.

NEW YORK STOCKS: Previous close, 148.94; Today's close, 148.93; Change, off .01.

Referees' Association Dinner

APPOINTMENTS AT STANLEY

A good programme of entertainment was arranged for the evening.

SMALL INDUSTRY PROMOTION IN KWANGTUNG

SHIU KWAN, Dec. 15 (Central).—To take the place of industrial plants along the coast destroyed by the Japanese invasion, the provincial authorities are taking energetic steps to promote small factories and home industries in the interior of Kwangtung.

An ambitious scheme has been mapped out by the Reconstruction Department to provide every district of the province a number of small factories utilizing as far as possible local labour and raw materials. The factories will be government owned in the beginning but may be sold to private interests later on.

Preparations have been completed to establish these factories in many of the interior districts, while a province-wide survey is under way.
